Physical Characteristics

Build and Skin Color: Sebastian is of average build for a female Nepleslian. She is well toned, thanks to her need to defend herself on the streets of Roger Wilco City. She has dark chocolate colored skin.

Eyes and Facial Features: Sebastian's eyes are a startling pale green. Though green eyes themselves are not all that rare, the paleness of them is what makes her stand out. They are rounded at the corners. Her nose is broad, though not unflattering, and her lips are full on top and bottom.

Ears: Sebastian's ears are typical, so nothing special to note of them.

Hair Color and Style: Her hair color is a rich black with brown highlights and usually seen in small braids falling mostly down her back, some are pulled away from her face to keep out of the way.

Distinguishing Features: Though one would not notice it at first, Sebastian's left arm is really a cybernetic one. She usually wears a black leather glove over the hand to hide the metallic fingers, though the glove is open in the back to allow air to go into the systems to keep it cool. She is always in long sleeves, for the most part, so the arm itself isn't usually seen.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: surprisingly enough, Sebastian is a very calm individual. She finds her inner strength by adhering to the principles of martial arts and a zen-like attitude. She is not quick to lose her temper, but when she does it's like an inferno. Though she is even tempered, she is not one to show lots of joviality either. She can smile, when she feels the need to, and laugh, but it's not something she would do on a regular basis. Most of it has to do with the fact that she was living with a man who wanted her to be a son, not a daughter.

- Likes: Poetry, Stargazing, Baking.
- Dislikes: Arrogance, Greed, killing when not necessary.
- Goals: To ensure that the path she has chosen of a mercenary is the right one for her.

History

Family

- Father - Christian Wells
- Mother - Marion Wells (deceased)

Pre-RP

Sebastian's history may sound typical of one from Nepleslia, and that would not be too surprising. She was born to a man who was a bit of a leader in his own little area of the Upper Grounds in the city of Roger Wilco on the planet of Nepleslia. He wasn't a well renowned leader, but he did well enough that, when his only wife was pregnant with a child, he had hoped to have a son to pass on the legacy. Sadly, and to his irritation, Marion died giving birth to their only daughter. He had decided to give her the name of Sebastian Marion, in honor of her mother and to remind himself that she would have to be his heir, even if not the boy he wanted.

Throughout her life, she was subjected to many types of training. They ranged from hand-to-hand combat and even up to small arms. She proved to be as proficient as possible, given the fact that she was being groomed to take over her father's business. She was even shown how to put together various types of demolitions and can quickly determine what would best be used in just about any given situation. Her most favored form of combat, though, is with her bo, though she would not be objectionable to using either of her knives. She only picks up a gun of any sort when needed.

As part of her grooming, she was sent on various missions for her father at a young age. These drew lots of attention to her, both good and not so good. One of the main things that was not good was the fact that someone decided to attack her as she was doing a run. In the fight, she lost her left arm. Her father had it replaced with a cybernetic one, which she keeps covered with long sleeves and a glove.

She grew irritated with the not so good kind and had decided to head off on her own, needing a break from what her father had in store for her. On that note, she headed off towards the Yamatai territories and had heard word that there was a need for someone of her knowledge in the 9th Fleet. Not wanting to join the military itself, she looked into seeing if there was a way for her to get in as a Civilian.

Unfortunately, the Star Army of Yamatai does not allow civilians to directly go into their ships, even as Nepleslians. No matter, Sebastian was able to go through basic training quickly enough and is now an armorer. She had learned how to not only hone her skills in defending herself, but she could also work on any of the ship's weapons and power armors.

YSS Ryujo

Episode 0 - "The Meetup"

Sebastian made it at the last minute to her new assigned ship, the [i]Ryujo[/i]. She wasn't too sure why a Nepleslian, such as herself, was assigned. She didn't let it get to her too much, though. She only hoped that her arm wouldn't give her too much trouble.

Episode 1.0 - "Fury"

The [i]Ryujo[/i] was now on its first mission. Sebastian was looking forward to being part of the first wave of soldiers going planet-side, once the green light was given, but sadly she was in sick bay with her arm when the call was given. She couldn't go on her first mission yet, but there was talk of another group going soon. She should be ready when that happens.

Skills

Fighting/Physical

Sebastian learned at an early age how to defend herself. Her father had his guards teach her all that she would need to know in hand-to-hand combat, martial arts and fighting with various weapons that were not guns at first. When she was able to hold her own in a real fight, she was then taught how to fire various weapons needed, though only the rudimentary stuff. She was exceptional as a marksman and, if her father wasn't so unreasonable, she would have been given more training in focusing on those weapons.

Cooking

Sebastian loves to bake, so is very good at making meals that require that kind of cooking. She can cook just about anything else as needed, though, and is very comfortable in a kitchen. Most of what she cooks is from her own tastes, though, so it might be quite a bit spicier than what most are used to.

Survival

Though Sebastian lived a life of semi-luxury, she was still subjected to harsh conditions during her raising. Her father didn't want his heir to be without self-sufficiency, if he could help it.

Communications

Sebastian is capable of using all standard communications found in the Democratic Imperium of Nepleslia. She is familiar with basic radio operation and procedures and can make transmissions to and receive transmissions from others through headsets, ships, ground vehicles, power armor, and shuttles. She is fluent in Trade and can speak, read and write it correctly. She can communicate clearly and effectively, even while under fire or in other unnerving situations. She has picked up quite a bit of Yamataigo, though at most it's only in speaking, none in writing.

Medical

Sebastian is versed enough in basic medical techniques. She was top in her class for learning how to administer CPR, first aid and Heimlich maneuver. She can administer prepared medicines, though does not carry them on her person.

Vehicles

Sebastian is familiar with how to effectively pilot most ground vehicles. Thanks, once more, to her father, she can make rudimentary repairs to her vehicle. She is not proficient in any given type of vehicle, though is willing to stick to one when given the chance. She will not only learn to operate it, but also learn to fix it as best as she can so long as she has the required tools to do so.

Demolitions

Sebastian isn't exactly expert in detecting these, but she is proficient enough, thanks to those who trained her throughout the years. She has a steady enough hand when it comes to disarming them, once she has figured out exactly how.
