Character Description

Hotaru has the typical appearance of a NH-33M \(Miniature\) with bob-cut, jet black hair and emerald green eyes. She looks to be made out of porcelain for the most part and has millimeter thin, royal blue lines that radiate from the edges of her mouth: two straight up, passing her eyes, reaching her hairline; two that lead to the rear bottom of her jaw; and two that go straight down, terminating just below her chin. Her ears are the typical Neko type with fur on them the same colour as her hair.

Kind and polite, Hotaru also acts and moves in ways that further enhance the perception of her being a delicate doll. She also tends to only fly when going distances greater than a few meters, otherwise she'll walk if there is no threat of being stepped on. This little mini, however, also has a frosty mean streak for those whom cause her issues.

History and Relationship Notes

Hotaru's life has been mostly uneventful: waking from first activation, the manners of socialization, the foibles of Basic training. Even at the Academy, she did well enough to graduate as opposed to top of the class. She did put effort into the things she did and kept to her goals of being her best; but her favourite thing of all was really just keeping track of things to make life easier for others.

After graduating, the miniature Neko was assigned to the YSS Soyokaze as a way to see how well she had truly assimilated that which she had learned.
