Physical Description

Yukiya Ellie is around 5'6", slim and lithe, light and fair skin with a few freckles dotted around her cheeks. She has ocean blue, bright eyes and deep purple, straight hair that runs down to her lower back, which she often wears in ponytails. Her voice is light and melodic, she enjoys wearing homemade clothes and jewelry. D-cup.

Personality

Given her religious, rather isolationist upbringing Ellie has several traits normally trodden down as one gets older and life takes its toll. She is a very genuine person and wears her emotions on her sleeve, always smiling and giggling. Ellie truly enjoys helping people wherever she can, giving favours and spreading joy.

She can be somewhat untactful when talking with those from a different walk of life than her - which turns out to be a lot of people. She's fascinated with meeting people from other species, having only ever being surrounded by her own kind and only hearing rumors of such people. She can sometimes be seen humming, lost in her own world when nobody is around. Ellie likes things to be neat and tidy, also making things and giving homemade gifts to people.

History

Pre-RP

Yukiya Ellie was born in YE 19 into a rural hamlet on Yamatai. She was born to a traditional family, who protected her from the world all her life. Growing up in such a isolated area, for the longest time she only knew her local community and nothing else.

Farming was the main income of the settlement, so she did what she could to help out, bandaging cuts and such. Eventually she got an apprenticeship with the healer the next town over and over the course of several years learned all she could. Her family fell on hard times one year when the crops failed, causing her father to ask her to join the Star Army and send money home when she could.

During her training, the option of undergoing additional training with the Star Army Military Police was offered due to the new recruitment effort from the reformed Star Army MP. She was selected to fill a Close Protection role due to her inherently good nature and unsuspecting figure, being deployed to the Eucharis to study while on duty as a Medic. Yukiya's goal was to fill two roles to increase the money she could send home.

RP

After some time on the Eucharis, Ellie was transferred to the YSS Wyvern.
