History

Before there was Sakura Machinery and Ryu Heavy Industries, there was Sakura Trust and Bank (STB). Established long before the establishment of the Yamatai Star Empire, STB served as a means for the Ryu-Mizumitsu Clan to manage their funds. Over time, it gradually expanded into investment and lending to trusted allies.

STB, like most Ryu-Mizumitsu assets during and after the 2nd Mishhu War, fell into a rough patch. The time period before YE 40 saw them liquidating many of their investments and shares in controlled corporations in order to remain afloat. But as of YE 42, STB has started to expand its investment portfolio once more.

Operations

As the holding company of the Ryu Keiretsu, Sakura Trust and Bank's investment division manages the number of stocks owned to ensure Ryu-Mizumitsu Clan continues to have controlling interests in their corporations. In addition to the investment division, Sakura Trust and Bank has a commercial division that conservatively lends money to other corporations within and outside of the keiretsu. There are plans for a retail division.
