

Azorean Medical Packet

The Azorean Medical Packet, commonly referred to as AMP, can be found in numerous amounts in Azorean medical facilities, on Azorean starships, and with any Azorean trade partner. The container itself is actually just a small 1×1 foot box made out of titanium with hooks on either end to hold 4 cylindrical tubes. It can be opened without the need to unhook the tubes to reveal its contents. The carbon tubing is wrapped in the cloth to be more space effective. The international medical sign can be found on the top while the Azorean Commonwealth logo on the bottom.

Contents

- One piece of carbon tubing collapsed down in three sections, so it can fit into the packet, but could extend out to almost the size of a leg
