The Type 31 Medical kit is a medical kit used by the Star Army of Yamatai that saw heavy use during the Second Mishhuvurthyar War and Kuvexian War.

Some notes have been added to the list of contents below for the convenience of Star Army Medical personnel.

Price: 69.99 KS from Ketsurui Zaibatsu.

History

The Type 31 Medical Kit (later called the Type 31A) was the original version of the kit, as introduced in early YE 31. as a successor to the older Star Army TA-13 Medical Kit.

The Type 31B became available (and standard) in the second quarter of YE 32.

The Type 31C was introduced in YE 33 in response to frequent Mishhuvurthyar Parasite infections.

In YE 46, the Star Army began transitioning to the Type 45 Standardized Field Medical Kit.

Description

The Type 31 series of first aid kits come in 3 variations.

It comes in light blue-gray, neon green, or camouflage.

Type 31A

The Type 31A came in a hard plastic carrying case. It was phased out in favor of the larger Type 31B.

Type 31B

Additions included Anti-Inflammatory Medication, more bandages, a better airway kit, a neck brace, a clotting agent, tourniquets, 🚑 Defibrillation gear, a scanner, a water filter, and oxygen. The 31B is easily distinguished from the original Type 31 by its large fabric carrying bag with a red crystal symbol on it.

Type 31C

The Type 31C Medical kit is a minor modification of the Type 31B. While the Type 31B carried a Star Army Science Scanner, Type 31 (with life form and chemical attachments), the 31C instead carries a Portable Medical Scanner. Bags converted to the 31C standard are marked with a large spraypainted black "C" on them.
