Commercial and industrial Aether power Generaton

Origin Industries is committed to providing solutions for both commercial and industrial customers, allowing them instant, limitless power in a form factor suiting their needs at reasonable prices, with service included for the first year of product ownership, and limited warranties for the lifetime of the product!

Generator Units

Starlight Brand generators contain tiny aether generators that power electrical motors that provide power via an array of outlets on the side of the machine. Any model that supports the additional hover package comes with a switch to operate the hover unit, whether the kit is purchased or not.
