Welcome to the Star Army of Yamatai. This site is the home of a free online community based on group story writing and micro-national simulation through role-playing.

We offer an all-original universe with a space military working to keep everyone safe from internal and external threats, while at the same time focusing strongly on the individual characters and the drama of their daily lives and loves in the backdrop of the dangerous, fantastic world of technology around them. Plots feature both play-by-post (message board) and chat role-playing and your additions are welcome.
