History

Family (or Creators)

Rogyr "Iron Giant" Dorkley (Father/Alive) Jun Hoshikawa (Mother/Deceased)

Pre-RP

Abigayl was born to Jun Hosikawa a former medic of the Star Army of Yamatai, and Rogyr "Iron Giant" Dorkley a former Star Army Veteran and former NSMC Marine in YE 11. She herself never went into the military, however, she chose to live a civilian life. Her mother died giving birth to her, since then she was always taken care of by either a nanny or her father during offtime. As she got older she diverged into the darker more shady side of living and started becoming a rogue so to speak and learning how to master the art of deception.

Due to the fact her father was away 90% of the time thanks to the Nepleslian Military, she would find herself doing rebellious things to try and get his attention. She would party consistently and bring boys home, and even girls home, and have a lot of sex just so the Nanny would voice her concerns to her dad. This consisted through highschool and up into her adult years.

At the age of 20 her father decided to retire and come home. Within a few months he was dissatisfied with his retired life and picked up Pirating as a hobby. Abigayl, eager to keep up with her father, enlisted onto the ship and became his first mate rather easily after proving herself. It was during the next five years that her father trained her in all the skills she knows now in terms of combat and survival.

At the age of 24 she and her father, along with two other founding members; Kyle Berkley and Jane Berkley, salvaged a Vampire-Class Patrol Craft and named it the Taipan. They quickly decided to raid a nearby settlement to make a name for themselves. Unfortunately it went bad and the law enforcement wound up killing Kyle, while Jane, Her Father, and herself escaped back to the Taipan. She comforted Jane, however Jane left the group at the next starport leaving her father and herself to fend for themselves.

Episode 00

As such Abigayl and her father decided that they would start at a refuge for criminal scum located deep within the Nassau system. They found their goal a small settlement located on the Nassau System's most habitable planet, known as Morant. Abigayl sent out fliers all over the settlement to attract attention and waited in a strip joint known as The Slimy Hole. There she met the future crew members of her ship, Lilith Oakheart and Kiettisuk "Kiet" Juntasa who instantly made an interesting impression on her. She took a bit to get to know Kiet and Lilith, easily taking a liking to both before Lilith left the Strip Joint temporarily, upon coming back Lilith was covered in blood...this worried Abigayl so she decided to cut her recruitment short, cause people had friends in this place.

Without another thought, Abigayl lead Kiet and Lilith to the space station where she had parked her ship. She lead them up to the ship, but before they could get in they were suddenly attacked by a group of outlaws. A large Yamataian Man (Named the Gunslinger), and two Gartagen lackies held them at gunpoint demanding that Lilith be handed over for her indiscretions against the Gunslingers friend whom Lilith had killed at an earlier time due to him attempting to violate her. Abigayl prepared for a surprise attack, knowing full well that they might get hurt, but before she could engage the group at the edge of her ships ramp a Gartagen male in power armor stepped out and dissuaded the three from engaging any further, as they retreated they declared they'd get their revenge. After a bit of discussing, the group learned that the man was Viras Mortanes Dies and Abigayl offered him a place on their ship as a thank you, and he accepted it. After this, the group got on the ship and headed back towards the Vampire-Class Taipan.

Episode 01

Skills

Communications

Abigayl knows Yamataian and Nepleslian.

Fighting

Abigayl is pretty well off in fighting, her father trained her to survive in combat when she decided to help him. This training makes her qualified, at least in her fathers eyes, to pilot power armor and survive in combat situations as if she was trained by the military themselves. Ever since then she has used her fathers STORM armor to combat enemies when she is not trying to be stealthy. She'd have the over-all skill of a well trained NSMC Marine.

Rogue

Abigayl learned how to do the more shady like skills during the time her dad was in the military, she learned how to master the art of Lock-picking, Pickpocketing, Sleight of Hand, and Seduction. Seduction being her best skill due to her promiscuous looks. She also learned how to be very street savvy. She'd be considered a Master in this.

Survival

Abigayl was trained by her father in the art of survival, she is pretty good at it though by no means a master. She is capable of surviving in the wild for a week or two at best without trouble. She would be considered a Journeyman in this.

Vehicles

Abigayl is a very good driver when it comes to mechanical things and has shown aptitude in Mecha Piloting and Driving. She has also some knowledge in how to drive tanks, however she never actually drove a tank before. She would be considered a Journeyman in most driving and piloting vehicles except for the Tank which she would be considered a rather poor novice in.

Physical

Abigayl is really well off physically, having a voluptuous body backed by a strong amount of muscle she is capable of doing exceptionally taxing tasks. She would be considered an Expert in this skill.

Entertainment

Abigayl follows a party hard, party harder mentality during her downtime. As such she has learned to entertain in a large amount of ways from sexually pleasing her partner to mixing drinks to dancing and everything else. She has perfected the art of most party based things and is an expert in the others, she is definitely a girl who knows how to enjoy herself.
