The Contractor of Cruelty

The Baron Gello Kordoon is a Kuvexian with a dark purple complexion and dark green eyes. Gello is a menacing man with an intense and domineering profile that always has to be the focus of the room. He often wears decorative armor pieces that have been crafted with expensive gemstones and made with an aesthetic value over actual protection, which is usually paired with synthetic fabric robes colored with rust and deep green palettes.

The Baron is an ENTJ personality type. He is a manipulator and is good at getting under someone's skin. He spends an excessive amount of time analyzing the people around him, learning about them, and learning ways to use what he learns to his advantage. Gello has a natural ability to think ahead and generally has a good comprehension of events before they unfold which makes him a devious and dangerous opponent in both business and war.

He is known for his cruelty and his originality when it comes to torture, often deploying shock and awe strategies that are aimed at the psychological weaknesses of his enemies. His ability to analyze people comes into play rapidly combined with a natural ability to strategize and deploy mind games and psychological warfare. He sees the intentions of others clearly which reveals their level of honesty which provides an opening for business and profit that is asymmetrically in his favor.

The Baron loves to show his prowess as a tactician and strategist which builds his ego. He is violent and knows how to deploy that violence in to threaten, injure or kill his opponents. He will even kill without just cause to get a rise out of the people around him and makes a public display out of the punishments he deploys on those who defy him. The show he puts on for his followers is often peppered with humor and showmanship that would make any theatre actor jealous of his ability. His smooth shifts between his tactical and theatrical personalities have a charismatic nature that often sways people into his favor to become minions to do his bidding.

Gello has a softer side that he often shows to people he respects, such as King Kalapom and other high profile members of the Interstellar Kingdom Of Kuvexia. He has a taste for women, especially his fantasy of one day owning Nekovalkyrja slaves, which was his secondary motivation for becoming involved in the Kuvexian War after profit. His harem is massive, and he has a tendency to extort and blackmail his women into being with him.

He is a gluttonous narcissistic individual with a deeper toned voice.

Who is Manipulating Who?

In YE 39, the Baron met Motoyoshi Kiyoko when his flagship encountered the Akuro III. He thought it was a Star Army of Yamatai ship until communication was established when he demanded the ship's surrender. Being the owner of the Kuvexian Military contractor Unau Wibla Auhali, he took interest in the Akuro III and the alluring personality of Motoyoshi Kiyoko. In the beginning, the nature of their relationship was centered around the purchase of the Akuro III which was eventually completed in YE 41. Motoyoshi Kiyoko convinced him to let her remain in command and that she would help advise him on strategies to defeat the Star Army of Yamatai. The cruel natures of their personalities complimented and played off the other.

Later that same year, after Motoyoshi Kiyoko learned that her mother, Taisho Ketsurui-Motoyoshi Katsuko had taken command of the First Expeditionary Fleet and had returned to the former United Outer Colonies, she began to convince the Baron to attack the region. Motoyoshi Kiyoko having been a former member of the United Outer Colonies was able to point out the value of resources in the Jiyuu System and Siren System.

In YE 42, after months of planning, they activated their plan to invade the galactic southeastern frontier of the Yamatai Star Empire by occupying the Tange System and infesting the colonial settlements there with Rixxikor.
