- Measurements: 34b

Build and Skin Color: Tannozako is built as a standard Feminine model Mimicom. Her skin is a light brown, as of a healthy sun tan.

Eyes and Facial Features: Eyes are basic almond shaped, and blue in color. Tannozako retains the soft, heart-shaped standard Mimicom facial structure.

Hair Color and Style: Tannozako's hair is jaw-length, cut straight, with short bangs just above her eyes. It is mostly dark blue, with orange highlights near the tips.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Tannozako is a very loyal individual, though she takes the time to make sure someone is worthy of her trust before giving it. She is capable of small talk and human interaction, and has a generally pleasant disposition, though she can be cold and seemingly harsh at times. As a self-learning computer, her personality is still in development, and has yet to fully form itself.

- Likes: Martial arts practice, travel, guns.
- Dislikes: Pirates.
- Goals: Own a ship so that she can travel on her own terms.

History

Owners

Clifran Tannoza (Deceased)

Pre-RP

Tannozako is a mostly standard Mimicom which was purchased to act as an assistant and Bodyguard to Clifran Tannoza, a traveling martial arts instructor, who made his living going from planet to planet teaching self-defense classes. As such, Clifran taught Tannozako all of his martial arts knowledge and techniques on their travels, to allow her to be both a more effective assistant and bodyguard. Aside from the hands-on training, and basic skills, Tannozako had general marksmanship programming implemented, which again was supplemented with hands-on training by her master.

After a time, Clifran and Tannozako were waylaid by pirates in transit from one system to another. After a desperate battle, the duo were able to drive off the pirates, but not before Clifran was mortally wounded. As he was dying, Clifran told Tannozako to take what was left of his belongings and finances, and make herself a living with it, and soon after, he expired, setting Tannozako adrift, alone. Eventually she was able to make it to a safe port, and attend to a burial for her former master, as well as sell most of the things that were worth anything, keeping only a few items she deemed necessary.

Since that time, Tannozako has been a drifter, keeping herself in good repair with the funds left over, though as her travel expenses continued to mount and her finances dwindled, she began searching for an occupation so that she could continue her travels.

Skills

Tannozako currently has the following skills

Fighting

Tannozako is an accomplished martial artist, as well as a competent gunfighter. She is rock steady of hand and foot, has perfect balance, inhuman strength, and is a more than excellent marksman. Her downfall is that she is not an especially creative fighter, and sticks to a set number of techniques which were taught by her master.

Vehicles

Tannozako is perfectly capable of piloting most vehicles. While not especially talented, she is smooth and steady, and can learn how to operate any vehicle so long as she is connected to a major information network.

Communications and computing

Tannozako is, literally, a computer and communications device. She knows or can download every known language, is capable of connecting directly to networks, can send or receive messages to and from other individuals, and can process and display information as needed.

Domestic

Tannozako is capable of performing any domestic duty or task, such as cooking, cleaning, yardwork, and basic repair on standard devices. While she only knows the basics, she is capable of downloading more advanced information if needed.
