Physical Description

6'2" with a well toned musculature, Jericho is rather athletic in build. He has short snow white hair, and crimson eyes, he also has a bar code on the back of his right hand. His face is somewhat gaunt and well defined in terms of rigid features which are striking if paired with a glare.

Personality

Professional, distant, cold, even brutal he's been described as. This is the outward expressions and emotions he displays when focused on the mission, part of the old programming that stuck with him as like the majority of his siblings. When not found busy, or given orders, he's rather laid back and easy going, usually finding small tasks to keep himself occupied. A side effect as well of the old programming, things he is still trying to break, to become more like his other siblings who have freed themselves of the past. That being said, he's a damn fine soldier, with an intuitive mind, and a good head on his shoulders. He will gladly risk his life for his comrades, and is not afraid to throw his life on the line.

History

In YE24, cloning began for the Fenrir project, a initiative that sought to create mass produce-able soldiers. In this they were successful with the creation of their prototype who later became known as Jack Pine. A batch of 100 were created from him, 50 male, and 50 female. The males became known as Jacks, while the females were known as Janes. Jericho tossed aside this name just like his most notable batch sisters and brothers, and was a slave to be used as a expendable soldier. But event were put in motion that saw the products shelved in cryogenic sleep, the data being used else where. for 16 years, Jericho and his siblings slept, fated to be forgotten, but the prototype rose against the wishes of their masters. In YE39, Jack Pine founded Section 6, which he would later use to free the batch of siblings, having been unaware of their existence. He took them in, gave them a military to fight with that actually cared about them, and through it, hoped to help them break their changes. It was proven it could be done, as five before him had grown into unique individuals, later known as Sparks, Armora, Jacky, JackyInn, and Talos. However, even with his new freedom, even after a year, Jericho is still trying to just operate within the circumstances, but his behavior has begun to deviate...
