Character Description

Brin is a moderately built nepleslian man with fiery orange hair neatly kept up with a set of equally fiery sideburns who stands at 5'8" and weighs 80kg. His eyes are light hazel coloured and curious, his overall stance indicates he takes his job seriously but is open to having some fun and messing around. The other members of Horizon have likened him to the "dad" of the company right after Riccard himself.

Brin possesses a pair of cybernetic arms designed to enhance his strength considerably and allow him to use heavier weaponry with a reduced risk to his personal being and better efficiency.

Personality

His personality is closest to that of a recently graduated college student with just enough mix of fun loving and seriousness to get his job done but still mess around with his team and co workers. During stressful situations or high profile jobs he often becomes more analytical and focussed to ensure the best outcome.

History

Brin was born in Nepleslia and eventually moved out to Yamatai when he was 20 to travel the major civilisations, while in Yamatai he met Riccard Black and the two became good friends while working together. When Brin learned of Riccards plan to invest in his new business idea and create Galactic Horizon the Nepleslian man decided to stay with him and help him build the company from the ground up.

While the end result would see Brin as one of the security officers his initial role in the foundation of the company had him working closely with Kryss Black. Brin assisted in designing many of the physical systems for the company along with having a major input into the structure of the security force. He is now considered a family friend to the Black family including Riccard and his wife and Kryss.

After the first expedition in Galactic Horizon's new home world was concluded and the hired help was sent home Brin and his security team continued making regular trips in the surrounding area of their base as well as going further in the search for any useful resources or points of interest. It was on one of these trips he was involved in a vehicle accident and damaged his arms badly, at his request they were replaced with a cybernetic pair specially designed by Riccard himself.

In early YE 42 Brin decided to return to Nepleslia and enlist for a term after discussing his plans with Riccard, they both agreed Horizon would be fine without him for a period of time while he returned to his home to serve his birth nation.
