Psychological Characteristics

She's also quite outgoing. Likes: Machines, computers Dislikes: Things breaking, not figuring out how something works Goals: To see what makes the universe tick

History

As a Freespacer, Scraps was born on a ship and in space out of a cloning facility. Surrounded by tech, and as a type 3, she was naturally curious. She took things apart, and put them back together, often to the dismay of others who would have to fix things she didn't put back together right. As her curiosity grew, and the familiarity of her surroundings started to bore her, she set off to go see other sights. Eventually, she found her way to Origin Industries, and on the SS Nanashi.
