Organization:	Origin

Physical Description

Kuda is a muscular, 5'1" tall Shukaren Daur with dark orange fur. His body bears the marks of old battles - a missing chunk of one ear, an eyepatch over his left eye, and the hint of a cybernetic right arm.

Despite his (comparatively) small stature, Kuda gives off a presence that commands respect and trust in his subordinates.

Personality

Kuda is a mountain to those who know him - implacable to enemies, resilient in the face of terrible odds, and someone that can be counted upon to take care of his allies. He rarely backs down from a challenge, but is never beyond using cunning to win.

Those who work for him can find him to be a challenging, if rewarding, commander. Kuda holds extremely high standards for himself and those around him - and has no problem calling out those who fall behind. Behind the scenes, he provides hands-on guidance or wisdom to help his subordinates improve. Those who do meet his standards are, likewise, commended and rewarded to the extent that he is able. The result is, typically, a group of elites who value self-improvement and excellence.

Off the job, the Daur is content to share drinks with his team, smoking cigars, playing cards, and generally enjoying himself without doing anything that would lose respect. His drill sergeant-like humor would never have anyone accuse him of being "jovial", but is nevertheless often a source of raucous laughter.

In his role at OriSec, he brings his values of excellence, teamwork, and victory through whatever means to the table. Kuda's cunning - and the cunning of those he inspires - makes him a frequent bane to pirates and mercenaries who would do harm to Origin's interests.

History

Before Origin, Kuda found himself caught up in the various revolutionary battles of his homeland. Disillusioned by all sides, he embraced his Daur curiosity for the larger universe and traveled into other territories.

He found work as a gun-for-hire easily enough. Often underestimated, the Daur eventually formed his own mercenary company. They took only respectable jobs for respectable clients, earning themselves a name for being likewise respectable and, more importantly, reliable.

Eventually the company did a few jobs for Origin, which led to the mercenary company as a whole being purchased by the large corporation. It wasn't long before Kuda worked his way up the ladder by merit of his own capabilities.
