Physical Characteristics

Amaterasu Aki, like her sister Emi, is a little shorter than the standard NH-33M \(Miniature\), standing only 7.3 inches tall, weighing in at 13.2lbs. She is very feminine looking, with a curvaceous and voluptuous build. Despite her busty and sensually apparent figure, she has stamina beyond that of a normal Miniature Nekovalkyrja. Unlike her sister, she isn't quite as well conditioned. Aki has brilliant, bright golden eyes that almost appear to be glowing, with a slender yet fitting nose and full luscious lips that almost naturally default to a pout, all framed by a beautiful heart shaped face.

She has deep, dark midnight blue hair that cascades down and changes shades to become frost blue at the bottom with platinum silver highlights. Her hair is long, layered and is straight that reaches down to the small of her back when not pulled back in a ponytail or pulled up in a bun. Like Emi's, it is luscious and very well kept. Aki's ears are slightly longer than normal, are outward swept, and are more horizontal than vertical covered in silken midnight to frost blue fur just like her hair, minus the silver highlights. The fur on the inner ear is a shade or two lighter than the top and back of her ears. As an NH-33 series Mini-Neko, Aki has four fingers and a thumb as opposed to Nekos in previous series.

Psychological Characteristics

Personality: Aki tends to move to the beat of her own drum, and often reacts drastically different than those around her. She's extremely neutral in her emotions, consistently comes off as being aloof or off in her own little world, and finds it difficult in most cases to come to the same conclusions as everyone else. As such, Aki reacts to situations minimally or with a delayed response in the fashion of what she thinks everyone expects of her heavily tinged with deadpan.

As such, Aki has an almost disturbing lack of a sense of fear, but is far from the types that display bravado in the face of such. She also tends to be quite literal when she gives considerations to those she becomes close to, and has very little shame or modesty when it comes to her body. This illogical sense of being seems to afford Aki impressive abilities with computers and programming, perhaps her greatest strength.

- Likes: Computers, mint candies, quiet places, reading, her sister Emi (sometimes)
- Dislikes: unorganized social gatherings, "bandwagoning", freeloaders
- Goals: To enjoy her time amongst the stars and discover things for herself instead of following the perceptions of others.

History

Family (or Creators)

Creators: Ketsurui Zaibatsu for the Star Army of Yamatai Family: Amaterasu Emi (Twin Sister)

Pre-RP

Amaterasu Aki and her twin sister Emi were created in June YE 33 on Vicky. Despite having training facilities there on the planet, both opted to venture out to planet Yamatai \(Planet\) to train at Fort Victory Reserve Center, though this decision was mostly Emi's with Aki going along for the ride. There at Fort Victory, where Emi seemed to have caught the attention of SAINT to which they decided to invest in her training, Aki seemed to be a whiz with computers and a bit of a tinkerer. Apart for the first time since their creation, Aki stayed there at Fort Victory while her sister Emi traveled back to Vicky to complete her SAINT training.

During her time at Fort Victory, it didn't take long at all for Aki to realize how drastically different she was from most everyone around her. Not just in aptitude but in her social and emotional abilities. Though it was difficult for her to relate to those around her, Aki found that focusing on her studies provided the necessary comforts to excel. Her technical prowess with computers and various systems proved much too valuable to allow what seemed like stunted emotions to hold her back. After completing her initial training, Aki was assigned to Leo Star Fortress which had only returned to SAoY's service in the year prior.

There at Leo Star Fortress, Aki offered her technical prowess to aid both as an Information Technology Specialist as well as a supplemental technician and engineer when necessary. Primarily working behind the scenes, Aki's performance was best when she was left to her own devices as opposed to working with others in concerted efforts, a testament to her self-reliance and self-sufficient nature. More often than not, she would see a task that needed to be completed and have it done well before command had issued orders to do so, of which her superiors grew quite fond of her despite her normally awkward tendencies. After three years of service at Leo Star Fortress, and at the dismay of her superiors, Aki was reassigned to the YSS Takamagahara. Unbeknownst to everyone, even her own sister Emi, Aki had secretly requested the reassignment to join her sister while having it look like the orders came on their own.
