Physical Description

6' 11" tall, dark blonde hair, blue eyes. Lean frame, cybernetics add some bulk. Some subdermal cybernetics add glowing patters under skin. Often has stubble, with a sharp jawline.

Personality

Somewhat easygoing. Prone to frustration, but generally level-headed. Occasionally drifts off task, but mostly efficient and focused. Calver largely keeps to himself, but sometimes gets lonely. He has no issue when working with a competent team, but is quickly frustrated by those unwilling to learn or cooperate.

History

Calver Lunren was born in YE 15. He was separated from his parents as a result of a pirate raid, their fates unknown. He took up work from a young age helping keep stock of a ship port, often running messages between the station's crew.

He began training with firearms early, in the case of pirates assaulting the station. Consistent physical activity gave him a decent amount of core strength. However, a later machinery incident left him limbless. His adoptive father Glin was able to get funding for a cybernetics doctor to come and grant him his current cybernetic limbs. As a side effect of the medicinal drugs taken during this process, he experienced slightly accelerated growth, leaving him noticeably taller than average.
