Physical Description

In order to obtain the role he wished for so badly, Godric spent most of his ks to look like the most generic human, at a height of 5.4ft, from centuries ago with an unhealthy, almost ghostly, white hair and skin color while coupled with light pink eyes. The purpose of this was so that Godric could adapt himself in order to look resemble any character available within the movie and other programs without having to constantly change his gentic code and instead use basic dyes and make up. The rest of his form is right in the middle between the spectrum of masculine and feminine with shoulders just barely being broader than the waist and with slightly toned masculines that look like they could belong to a lightweight boxer or a hard working ballerina. His voice is very versatile enough to sound like a deeply voiced girl to a high pitched alcoholic to the general with such a gruffy voice that could sow fear into the hears of his own solders. Yet the smell of failure and sewer systems can not fade away from him if you can get passed the metric ton of air freshener around him.

Personality

Positively elated! Well most of the time, almost no one will find him in a negative mood as he is practically overflowing with energy despite his meager diet. His mannerisms are always exaggerated and his emotions are multiplied by two when he feels like exaggerating, which tends to be most of the time. To his grief, most people would often prefer for Godric to shut up once in while and shut his loud trap with his random improvised singing. Even when Godric is feeling down, or borderline ready to cry, people could still find him smiling as tears are flowing down his cheek. If the mitochondria is the powerhouse of the cell, then Godric is the beacon of optimism.

History

Godric Erenpil was born in YE 11

Born into an intellectual family on the planet Kennewes, Godric always put his efforts into his academics first and foremost. His parents pushed him to do great things, often forcing him to live a perfect lifestyle of leadership and command, and even went as far to prepare him for an admiralty at an early age so that when he would be even more prepared as an admiral in the Star Army outperform other candidates. This life of academic success ended when Godric was around twelve years of age when he was finally pushed over the edge when he could no longer handle the kind of lifestyle his parents placed upon him. He stopped trying so hard when he was introduced to the idea of being someone else, of experiencing the freedom of many lives, and learning experiences of others without studying the intricacies of Aether Generators. Simply put, he took on acting and drama rather than sciences.

Needless to say his parents were rather disappointed by this course of action and slowly gave up supporting his career of being an actor. Instead Godric grilled himself and practiced acting various roles and honed his singing voice to a point when he first joined his first drama club. For years he would put on various plays and musicals with that motley crew. One day when he came home, he found his mother was once again pregnant, and in a few months Godric was the eldest brother of a pair of twins. Siblings that were to become his replacements with even more grueling drilling by their parents. With time they surpassed him in science and math and were shown to be prodigies, the next set of intellectual minds that would propel both society and technology into the future. While promise arose between those two, Godric had shown promise in the use of puppetry in order to entertain his younger siblings or often improvised scenes in order to get them to laugh. He failed.

Godric almost reached success when he had successfully auditioned as a main role for a movie that would revive ancient historical drama. That success died when the director herself died after a freak accident with an electrical outlet. Now as an prideful adult, Godric had to do something and look for a way to feed himself in order to no longer rely on his ever so loving parents. The only thing he could find with his current skill set and no assistance, was to be a janitor on a civilian ship in exchange for passage to wherever it's destination was located and very little pay to get by on one meal a day. He also didn't expect to see so many Gartagens. He also realized that they shared the first constant in their names, and that his entire family started with an N aside from him. He wonders if this was all due to fate sometimes.

He wonders if this was all due to fate sometimes, and is often curious if his brother joined the Scientific Studies Service yet or if his sister was hired by Origin Industries to help create new designs for military gear. Meanwhile he waits to be dropped off to clean something for a small wage, to clean everything before the cleaning bots arrive!

Social Connections

Godric Erenpil is connected to: Erenpil Naizen (Father), Erenpil Noriaki (Mother), Erenpil Natanail (Brother), Erenpil Nethaniah (Sister),

Skills Learned

Communications

Fluent in Yamataigo and literate as well, but rather than learning any more languages in school, Godric decided to learn instead accents from various corners of the Universe and can perform various accents from different regions of Yamatai space and could even pass as a native speaker of Trade if he also studied the language. If he knew what to say, he is confident that he could sound like a native from any region as long as he's studied how to pronounce the words at least once.

Entertainment

Devoting his life to drama, Godric has become an exceptionally skilled actor being able to portray a plethora of character archetypes to the letter, from the insane murderous lunatic to the sage of old. Godric can also perform improv like it was second nature, improvising an entire scene or even an entire two hour play from different genres, preferably of the comedic kind. However when Godric is alone he can work his puppets into his act or improvise with the puppets as his main characters like they themselves were alive, he tried hard to impress his siblings. In many musicals, Godric was forced to dance.... EVERYTHING, with and without a partner, at parties, or alone, and is quite good at it he reckons. Yet it his singing the Godric prides himself most, when he was young he trained his vocal range to flexible and to sing really fast lines to long and slow chorus's.

Humanities

Out of all the subjects that Godric decided to master at kennewes university, it was Philosophy. Mind over matter, thought vs the hard facts. Godric was always enthralled by how the minds of sentient creatures work and studied many cultures and their way of expressing themselves, and with time Godric found everything to be gray within the spectrum of black and white. Nothing seemed to be right anymore and everything could be right and wrong at the same time, or just not at all. All it takes is mere time to understand everything. No longer does Godric see the world as clear as day or night, and sometimes that saddens him that there will never be an absolute of good or evil.

Leadership

During his final years of being in a Drama club, he became a role model and a leader solely based on seniority, was was responsible to herd thirty underclassmen into successful shows. In general was able to show the new people the ropes of drama with glee, but just because he could act like a leader didn't mean he could... act like a leader.

Domestic

Desperate to get a job as a temporary janitor, Godric quickly learned how to scrape off rust, polish metal, clean and iron clothes (God knows why), sweep decks, and mop floors in under five minutes with moderate success.

Culinary

After his school's hit musical "Uber Udon Masher", a comedy about priests and deadly food, particularly noodles. Godric was inspired to learn how to make amazing noodles from scratch. However due to time and currency constraints, Godric had instead become more proficient in the art of instant noodles. The secret of how to fully cook instant noodles in two minutes, instead of three was blessed on to him, although he would much rather gather the resources to make his own.

Fighting

Godric is nothing more than a wimp, fighting would be his death sentence. Though he looks cool jumping about and doing parkour while roundhouse kicking and sending fists flying. He would not even be able to hurt a fly, much less a person of his size. His best bet is to scare off his enemy using complex melee maneuvers or acting like a stone cold killer with a gun. Sometimes, Godric uses his broom as a spear, or what he prefers to call a "Naginata" when he is by himself.

OOO Information

OOO Notes

It was like 3:20 am when I finished writing Godric, there might be a lot of mistakes that I can't find and things that may seem redundant or just frankly, not descriptive enough.

In communications he can basically just do accents.

Personality is kind of weak, anything that you guys see?

What else would a Janitor need?

Also, I need to add links later and a planet from where this family is fromIn the case GrammarPaladin becomes inactive:

- Can this character be used as an NPC by a GM or FM? YES
- Can this character be adopted after I am gone for a year? YES
