Iemochi Nagamura

Species & Gender:	Minkan Male
Year of Birth:	YE 13
Organization:	Iemochi Innovations & Sales
Occupation:	Management
Rank:	R&D Chief
Current Placement:	IIS Avalon

Physical Description

Nagamura is 5'8", built, fairly pale skinned, grey-eyed with golden hair, slicked back over his head. He speaks with overconfidence and seems to be generally a tad too cocky, taking too much time to work out and wear fancy things.

Personality

Nagamura, above all, is one of the most curious people you will ever meet. His only motivation is the discovery of new and ancient technologies with an almost crazed passion. Despite this, he is a big fan of delegating, making sure he has plenty of time to kick back and follow his hobbies, as long as he gets credit. He's a very cautious and meticulous individual, timid at times. He's not incredibly pleasant as a friend but has a good sense of humour.

History

Nagamura was born in YE 13 in the city of Kyoto, Yamatai. He always had a curious nature and took advantage of his father to skip between universities across Yamatai and beyond, learning whatever he wanted and living on his father's money. After learning enough to have several doctorates, Nagamura returned to his father to pursue his need for discovery with all the assets of the company.
