History

Family (or Creators)

Kasumi was created by SAINT for the specific purpose of being an intelligence agent. She seems to be a loner, and has nobody she trusts enough to call 'family'

Pre-RP

Kasumi is a typical SAINT field agent, that being she is often on mission, commonly disguised, and has been around the Kikyo sector more times than a Nepleslian hooker gets laid in a year. She has very rarely been directly in combat, and most of her missions were information-gathering only.

Skills

Kasumi is skilled in almost every weapon ever fielded by the Star Army, and is very good at covert operations, with or without powered armor. She knows all the typical skills a Nekovalkyrja must know, plus she knows how to pilot most large craft with a little help, and she is very skillful at using computer systems. her missions have caused her to learn a very large number of skills, mostly only to a low level, but she is very flexible in what types of tasks she can be made to perform.
