History

Yoshiko was created as one of the later batches of NH-29 series Nekos. She and her sisters stayed for 2 months at a Star Army facility (location classified), where their handlers kept them under close observation. This was to confirm that they would not exhibit any behavioral abnormalities, just to be safe. During this time, Yoshiko was trained to be a Star Army Technician, mainly via direct downloads of the relevant information into her brain. However, she also received some hands-on training from her handlers, and occasionally helped out with some minor maintenance work around the facility. At the end of the 2 months, Yoshiko's handlers declared her physically and mentally fit for duty. She tearfully bid goodbye to her handlers as she left the secret facility. Yoshiko is currently waiting for her first assignment.
