Personality

Kondo Yuko is a very shy girl. She often just tends to stay quiet and follow orders, even if she doesn't exactly understand them. Her goals are to simply do her job to the best of her capabilities. She will often work as hard as she can, which can often lead to her over-working herself. She has a habit of constantly checking things all the time without question. She is very rarely angered by anything and she is seen as a very cautious person. She has had no past close relationships with people other than her mom, but she does know who the people in Ralt are, even though she hasn't really talked to them.

Likes: Sleeping, drawing, any form of game, technology, horror movies, reading, and cookies.

Dislikes: War, pants, certain insects (Cockroaches and spiders mainly), bad internet, sad movies, social-interaction, and some foods/sauces (Gravy, onions, cabbage, fish)

Disabilities: Trembles a lot, urinates the bed, often thinks horrible things (Are these even disabilities?)

History

Kondo Yuko was born in YE 19 in the Small Hamlet of Ralt.

Kondo Yuko has lived a pretty bad life so far. She has witnessed three wars from her small home in Ralt, and grew up without a father from the age of 5, after he died in the Fourth Elysian war. Her mother didn't make enough money to support her family, so she had to work a lot more, and Kondo didn't get much attention, causing her to get used to being lonely. She never had any close friends, but knew who people were, and could identify most, but, she tended to stay away from people, so she didn't really get to know anyone too well. She did relatively decent in school, given the fact she never had many disturbances or distractions.

At the age of 17, Kondo had decided on joining the army. She had witnessed three wars, and she understood the risks, but she knew it would help her mother greatly financial wise. Kondo wanted to help her mother get out of her debt issues, which was her main concern, and maybe even get her a better house, or even better, earn enough to move out of Ralt. Kondo's mother supported her joining the army, despite the fact her husband died in a war. Kondo soon joined the army and went through training with no problems.

Kondo Yuko is connected to:

Skills Learned

- Star Army Common Skills
- Starship Operations- Is quite inexperienced, yet somewhat skilled. She understands what she has to do, but may mess up out of nervousness. She was found to be somewhat good at everything EXCEPT Combat systems, where she was found to be lacking. She's most comfortable with the Starship Systems, but will operate with anything she has to.
- Art & Vocations- She's got a basic idea of how to draw certain things. Yuko learned how to draw while she was sitting around in her room, all alone. She's no-where near a great artist, but she's certainly not terrible by any means.
- Domestic- Yuko, having spent a lot of time home alone, has learned how to cook basic meals and wash clothes. Cleaning was of course, one of the main things she did, but she could never reach the higher places very well.
- Knowledge- Yuko spent a lot of time studying, so she is quite smart when it comes to things. However, she isn't exactly great at remembering the names of people or places.
- Communication- Yuko can speak fluent Yamataigo and Trade. She may be a bit harder to understand if shes nervous or embarrassed, as she stutters quite a lot though.
- Technology Operation- Yuko is very good with operating computers, however, she's often self-conscious, so she tends to be much slower and more careful when people are around and shes using one.
