Possessing a form that can be aptly described as both top and bottom-heavy, Mazaki Seina is exceptionally chunky by the standards of the typically svelte Nekovalkyrja. Bearing plump steatopygian buttocks, broad hips, and thick thighs, Seina's figure has a conspicuous womanly aspect. However, in spite of the feminine softness of her form, Seina has a subtly toned abdomen and a well-muscled back. She is also extremely short-statured. However, her dense, yet strikingly curvaceous build grants her the same level of superhuman physicality and deceptive musculature as her peers.

Seina has a colorful heart-shaped visage, possessing pink skin, vibrant sea green hair which shifts into an azure hue towards the ends, and light cyan irises. Her eyebrows are groomed in a high, yet graceful arch¹⁾ and are a slightly darker shade of sea green than the color in her hair. She also has full lips, which she tends to project with violet red color. Seina styles her hair in a short bob-cut, the edges of which closely frame her face. Her long and pointed elf-like ears stick out conspicuously from beneath her hair.

Personality

Seina is a quiet, yet inquisitive and compassionate individual. As an android service specialist, she views the droids that she works on with the same benevolence as a doctor towards her patient. As such, she prefers servicing sentient droid personnel and cyborgs over non-sentients, which she knows are only meant to serve as tools. Even so, she is frightened by the prospect of memory-wiping non-sentient droids.

As another dimension to her personality, Seina is an extreme perfectionist. She is unrelenting in her pursuit of mastery in virtually all things that she does, even those that are not immediately relevant to her occupation. Seina spends much of her time keeping abreast of the latest developments in artificial intelligence and in physical training. In addition, she enjoys experimenting with non-sentient droids, seeking ways to make them more efficient, faster, and reliable.

History

Mazaki Seina was synthesized on a Minori-Class Hospital Ship in YE 41 in the ship's Type 30 Mass Cloning Facility. After her graduation from basic and socialization training, she initially sought to train to become a medic, but after receiving a low score in the biology and anatomy sections of her occupational assessment exam, she decided to train in information technology. From there, Seina specialized in android service and maintenance, where she learned to repair droids, cybernetics, and other forms of technological artificial intelligence.

After she graduated from occupational training, Seina was assigned to the newly-minted YSS Aeon II.
