Pre-RP

Izokia was originally of the NH-29 generation when her she was deployed as a medic in a squad with her two sisters and several other batches. Their mission was to defend a tactically advantageous position from the NMX advance. During one patrol an NMX ambush forced her and her squad to be pinned down. They were swiftly overwhelmed and her entire squad fell to the NMX. She was about to be killed when reinforcements appeared saving her and only her. After that she resigned from military service out of guilt and she remained that way for several days. Only she decided that she would become a new person and ensure that no one ever had to go through the feelings of failure and loss that she was subjected to and one ship could give her that chance the YSS Eucharis. She had one request and that was for the character of the word apology to be added to the base of her neck. Now she is ready for her new post and her fresh life.
