Physical Description

Seyla is a medium built, medium statured woman with long, raven black hair that she tends to tie up in order to prevent it from getting caught in things. Her skin is of a darker shade, similar to that of one who spends a lot of time in the sun. She has somewhat thin, though not necessarily long face, with a slightly pointed chin, and delicate eastern features. Her eyes would be a dark shade of blue, were it not for a slight unnatural glow from within. As her body is that of a Mimicom, she features a BANGLE device on her left wrist, as she was predominantly right-handed in her organic body, and preferred the device be on the opposite hand to the one she normally works with.

Personality

Seyla Midi is a rather practical, task oriented person who thrives on having things to do. She dislikes idle time, but understands the need to rest and relax, despite no longer having a body that requires either of those things. A leader who likes to reward hard work, she will usually punish those who don't work their hardest by making them work more. She is a bit salty, and often speaks her mind about things that bother her, but is honest and open and tends be rather approachable, and is more than willing to help those that need it.

History

Seyla Midi was born 15日 7月 10 in Yamatai \(Planet\). Born to a rare pair of base humans that survived the plague of YE08, Seyla was raised in a fairly normal household, and found an early love for fixing things, mostly via disassembling and reassembling her toys, with varying success, but giving her a start into abilities that would help her throughout her life. She attended her normal school courses, as well as attempting college, but decided early in her first semester that higher education was not for her, opting instead to go to a trade school to maintain and repair vehicles. By the time she had earned her certifications, the war against the Mishhuvurthyar was in full swing and she decided to join the Star Army of Yamatai to do her part to help, even going so far as to transfer into a Yamataian body when the species restriction order was put in place, serving the early part of her career as a Technical sentry on a Sakura-class gunship, and later a Plumeria. Given that her field of expertise lie more in the technical side of things, as she gained Rank Seyla opted to transfer to a starbase for higher level maintenance work, landing a job aboard Pisces station for a while. When the Fifth fleet accepted the YSS Amatsuotome as its flagship, Seyla jumped at a chance to work on a fleet tender, especially one that combined the technology of both Yamatai as well as the megacorporation Origin Industries. As her career progressed, she found herself atop the enlisted ranks, and in charge of the Fifth Maintenance and Support unit aboard the Amatsuotome.
