History

 Vasati Akhai was born on Ayenee in 170 BYE to Kari Akhai and Unecaro Aucari. Her birth occurred during a period know as Pre-Contact - The Falcon Movement shortly after the GATEs opened new worlds for exploration and colonization. Her early childhood was bustling with activity as she often accompanied members of her ysi on their visits to settlements. As a child she was fascinated with political talks and negotiations. She found them to be interesting and would go as far as to sneak in to eavesdrop if she could.

When it came time to pursue higher education, she chose to delve into the realm of political sciences, specializing in diplomacy. Every topic covered was something she found fascinating, there was little time spent on things outside of her studies during this period.The Norian'Rolthil'Quaen Divergence quickly became a controversial item of discussion. Many people were divided starkly on either side, select few were in the middle, having chosen to see both sides. Vasati fell starkly in the middle, ultimately she elected to remain with her ysi when Ujin led some Norians to Senneril.

In YE 30 shortly after then Emperor Adrin Eitan had been taken as a prisoner of war, she began service to the Eitan ysi. Initially this service included a period of training and familiarization. She spent time absorbing knowledge and practices that related to differences in how diplomatic functions were performed in varying circumstances. One of the most memorable excursions she participated in was as a member of Aelya Eitan's contingent to Yugosha Chonyosa. As one of the few who survived when things went sour, it served as a memory that would forever stay with her. However, it did not sway her opinions on Umarian claims regarding Asune in any way.

While many embraced this technology she delved deeper into more diplomatic learning experiences. This did keep her close to hot button issues, but out of the main limelight when it came to being directly affected. She whole heartedly supported Tetsuya Eitan's visions of Tsenlan. In turn this led her to follow the ruling ysi, not in a fully functioning role as a diplomat. As tragedy befell her people she kept a watchful eye over what political conundrums that could potentially arise.

Upon Norian arrival in the Kikyo Sector in YE 44 she accompanied Aelya to assist with the development of Tsenlan and the Tsenlanese Cultural Center. All of her energies were devoted to these two very important efforts until Lynira Aucari's departure for the United Norian Imperium in late YE 45. Shortly after Lynira's departure from the role of Diplomatic Advisor, Vasati was informed that she would be taking over. With things having settled somewhat after the norian's arrival she was excited for this new challenge.

In YE 46.3 she attended the Hanami Festival of YE 46^{3\)}, where she met Toidorno Sejgui while taste testing some flowers.
