When it comes to accomplishing these goals Vergil is ruthless, he will stop at nothing to obtain his

Vergil will follow orders to a T he will never question a command will complete his missions with complete efficiency. If Vergil knows an order given to him is morally wrong he will not question it, instead he will complete it even if that goes against his own code, it is a necessary loss in order to change the Universe.

Vergil treats woman with utter respect to, going to the point of being knightly, he will never speak down to one and will always treat each like they are his own princess. Although Vergil acts like a perfect man he holds many deep psychological issues, these are due to the loss of his family. He holds a deep hatred towards his enemies often focusing his hate towards them, Vergil wishes to gain more power because of the lack of strength he had as a child while he was little. Vergil does hold some mental strain due to his traumatic childhood, however it is nothing that requires any concern. Vergil holds most of his feelings inside and does not allow anyone to really get to know himself or his personal past. History

Family (or Creators)

Vergil once had a family while he was growing up, however his family was killed during a home invasion leaving Vergil the soul member left of his family. This makes him feel rather lonely and is the main reason why he wishes to change the Universe.

Pre-RP

Vergil was born on YE 14 during the Second Elysian War, his father was a successful Yamataian businessman, although the threat of death and war loomed over most of his younger years Vergil lived the high life and always got what he wanted. He was very polite and always treated his elders with the utmost respect. Vergil's mother was a writer who specialized in writing stories for children, Vergil was her best critic and helped her edit her books.

Vergil had the perfect life as a child, he was popular in school, had many friends and had the perfect family life. Of course all of that changed when Vergil turned nine during YE 23. During the middle of the night a thief broke into his family estate and attempted to steal from his father's safe, Vergil's father found the man and approached him, unfortunately the man was armed and Vergil's father was gunned down. His mother hearing the commotion hid Vergil in a closet. The burglar found his way into the room and shot Vergil's Mother, Vergil watched through a crack in the closet door as his mother died looking at the closet.

The Police never found the man and Vergil was sent to an orphanage. Vergil developed some psychological issues and was sent for constant therapy. Vergil's mind was very fresh during this time and he was thrown from Orphanage to Foster house and back. Many of the institutions he was living at could not handle Vergil. He was seen as a bad egg and was thrown through the system for his entire childhood.

Vergil understood that his parents died but he mostly blamed himself for not being able to protect them. He couldn't get the image of his mother's face out of his mind and this became the focus on many night terrors as a child. Eventually doctors were able to find the proper medication to help tame his dreams. After Vergil took his first dose he had a dramatic personality change, calming down and reverting back to his old self. With the constant threats of the Fourth Elysian War, Second Draconian War, and the Mishhuvurthyar Wars Vergil's life in the orphanage was always on edge, fearing for their lives Vergil remembers always being on constant alert in case of invasion.

On YE 32 Vergil (now 18) was considered of age, he was sent back to his families estate which was left untouched for him when he grew up. Vergil inherited his families fortune and lived on his own for many years. While Vergil lived on his own he came to the decision that he would join the military, that maybe if he got strong enough he could protect people and hopefully prevent the same tragedy that happened to him to reoccur.

So Vergil started his long dream, he attended school in order to gain somewhat of an education (since the education given to him at the orphanage was little to no good) Vergil passed with flying colors due to his dedication and his strict schedule that helped him gain the best marks in his class. Once Vergil left school he donate most of his families fortunes to the local orphanage in hopes that the Children would benefit from the money. Vergil eventually left school, feeling that his true calling lied with the military he dropped out of school in order to join.

Vergil joined the Military Academy on YE 34, he knows that his more privileged past is a reason why some of his school teachers favored him but Vergil wished to be treated the same. The military was the best option as well in that regard, all he hopes know is to be recruited on an exceptional vessel and gain an outstanding military career.
