About

Origin Security corporation, normally known as OriSec, is a paramilitary security organization created to protect Origin and Origin assets, utilizing Origin Starships and Combat gear, OriSec trains their members in a way similar to that of both the Nepleslian and Yamataian star militaries, but isn't quite as strict. In practice, OriSec is much more laid back than a real military, and exists for the sole purpose of guarding and/or escorting Origin assets and products.

Mission Statement

OriSec is devoted to the highest in personal security for origin Industries. Using nothing but the best equipment, OriSec will protect and serve against any threat and any danger, in any condition.

History

As Origin Industries expanded, their security forces needed to expand as well. Instead of being the normal band of low-ranked employees whom merely patrolled against intruders, OriSec was created as a highly-trained, highly-skilled group of individuals who would not only protect against enemies, but be capable of handling many different job profiles.

OriSec was also created for two other purposes: To showcase the effectiveness of Origin's equipment in real world situations, and to work closely with national militaries in order to harbor ties between both the corporation and its clients, as well as multiple nations.

OriSec briefly entertained the notion of being a for-hire PMC, but a lack of numbers and a couple of jobs that fell through showed that the venture was not profitable, and it was quickly abandoned in favor of providing better protection for Origin's assets.
