The Design

These cabins are reserved for the highest-ranking officer on the vessel, typically the Captain or Shipmaster, and are designed to provide them with a space that is both functional and aesthetically pleasing.

Size and Layout

The Shipmaster's cabin is spacious, often taking up an entire section of the ship's upper deck with close proximity to the bridge. The layout is designed with a focus on maximizing comfort and efficiency. It typically consists of multiple rooms, including a living area, bedroom, private bathroom, and an office.

Aesthetic Design

The cabin's design is a blend of sleek modernity and futuristic elements. The walls are adorned with customizable displays that can change the appearance of the cabin at the touch of a button, offering a serene view of outer space or any other preferred setting.

Furniture

The furniture in the cabin is of the highest quality, with ergonomic chairs and a plush king-sized bed in the bedroom. There is also a comfortable lounge area with a state-of-the-art Virtual Collective Experience entertainment system, including a large Volumetric Display for relaxation and leisure.

Viewing Windows

The cabin boasts large, panoramic viewing windows that provide breathtaking views of the cosmos. These windows can be covered with smart-tinting glass for privacy or to reduce the intensity of external light. On starship classes that cannot accommodate natural viewports, Volumetric Windows are utilized.

Office Space

The cabin includes a well-equipped office area for the Captain's work and administrative tasks. It features a spacious desk with a holographic interface, high-speed data access, and a comfortable chair. There is also a meeting table installed on some starship classes for discussions with the ship's senior staff.

The cabin is connected to the ship's KAIMON system, allowing the Captain to control various ship functions, access information, and communicate with the crew seamlessly.

Private Bathroom

The private bathroom is furnished with high-end fixtures, a walk-in shower, a Jacuzzi bathtub, and smart mirrors that can display information or entertainment while getting ready.

Climate Control

The cabin's climate is fully adjustable, allowing the Captain to set the temperature and humidity to their preference.

Security and Privacy

The cabin is equipped with state-of-the-art security systems, including biometric locks and KAIMON observed surveillance cameras, to ensure the Captain's safety and privacy.

Personalization

The shipmaster cabin is designed to be highly customizable, allowing the Captain to personalize the decor, lighting, and ambiance to suit their preferences.

Amenities

Depending on the size and class of the starship, the shipmaster's cabin may also include additional amenities such as a private library, a small kitchenette, a personal gym, or even a small garden for relaxation.
