

Dietrich Starkwerk

Dietrich Starkwerk (Or Dietrich Greatworks in Trade) is a Corporation founded and created by Augustus Dietrich in the early days of his term on the seat within the House of Representatives. Dietrich Starkwerk focuses on the creation, production and trade of valuable designs and inventions for the Abwehran Star Empire.

It is a Civilian Corporation with military contracts.

History and Founding

It was Friedrik Dietrich who originally broke into the hardware business in AF 239, and along with several food restaurants and fast food locations expanded the family fortune until AF 251, where the Dietrichs' businesses fell into neglect, and slowly slipped away.

In AF 258, Augustus Dietrich, Friedrik's sole heir and son took the inheritance from his dead father as well as his savings and began expanding the Dietrich name to more locations and businesses. It wasn't until AF 260, in the early days of his new office that Augustus took out a loan, sold his restaurants, and invested it all into the building and buying and construction of a handful of factories just outside of Großartige Festung, the Abwehran capital.

By YE 33 Dietrich Starkwerk was one of the three big competitors for military contracts in the Abwehran Star Empire. Instead of focusing on beating out its competitors at home, it reached out to the Kikyo Sector at large. While Augustus Dietrich fought in the UOC on a humane mission, Starkwerk formed new contracts with international companies. At the same time, it bought an affiliate company named Schnee Katze, who would provide the new civilian face of the corporation.
