Standard Damage Control Center

A standard in larger warships and space stations, the Damage Control Center is the central intelligence hub for all damage assessment and repairs for the engineering division. A small room that can house four individuals, the entire room is comprised of tank-style Holographic Displays with back-up Field Emission Displays. These displays contain entire cut-out maps of the vessel its on that list damage on a case by case basis. Any damage read is then communicated to engineers and technicians assigned to damage control efforts.

A Abwehran Fire Suppression Locker and a First Aid Station are located near the entrance.
