

Wapoin Nâma (Healing Gel)

The Wapoin Nâma, or Healing Gel, is a topically-applied restorative of the Poku Saeruo Degonjo.

History

Healing Hel was developed by the Otâmovi Wiy Jael \(Silver Moon Sect\) for use by the Poku Saeruo Degonjo in 739 CY YE 21.

Overview

Wapoin Nâma is a combination of natural enzymes and synthesized chemicals. Wapoin Nâma causes the skin of the patient to heal at an accelerated rate.

Wapoin Nâma is only for topical use. The gel is typically applied to a gauze pad and held against the area to be healed. In the case of a gash or other deep cutting wound, the injury is pressed or held closed and the gel is applied directly to the skin. If the gel is applied to an open wound, it will seal the wound at the skin level, but scarring will result if the dermis is not positioned properly during the treatment.

Wapoin Nâma when applied starts to work after one minute, it then dries out in 15 minutes later, and stops working. A 15 minute treatment results in the equivalent of 24 hours of healing.

Healing Gel can also be used to treat burns.

The gel has a viscous consistency, and is made available in various tube sizes.

Effects

The cells of the skin absorb the nutrients from the gel, and other compounds in the gel cause rapid regeneration of skin and outer layers of flesh.

Wapoin Nâma can be used in conjunction with Figorous'sa Usapo'te \(Cellular Stimulator\) for even better and faster healing.

Side Effects

Depending on the nature of the injury and the medical training available to treat it, some scarring may occur.
