Tomin-ano (Window)
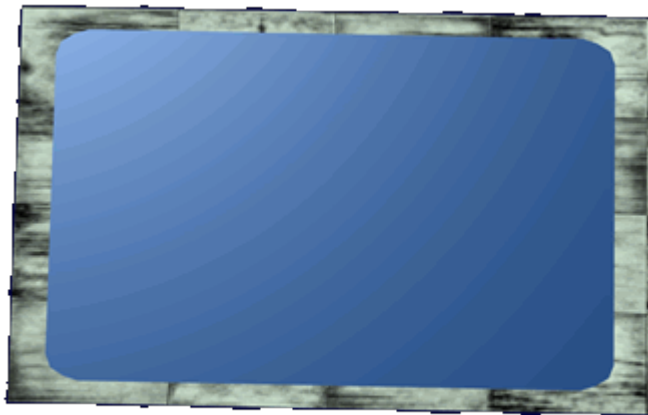

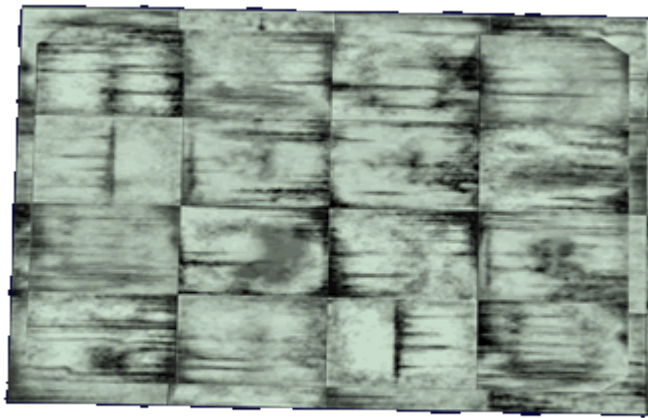

This page describes the standard windows used by the Poku Saeruo Degonjo ships and installations. This is the current version which entered service in 740 CY (YE 21).

Tominano transparent wall pronounced (tōmē-ănō) are used to allow the occupants of ships and installations to look outside directly. They are not common and are never installed in sensitive areas.

They are composed of a frame of Mâqitua (Light Metal), with an Mâqitua'tomin (Transparent Light Metal) insert.

There is a control next to the window on the interior that allows the user to make the insert transparent. It can be manually accessed or accessed by computer. There is a polarizing layer on the inside of the window that automatically dims preventing light that is too bright from coming in.

Note: When in an alert mode, all Tominano automatically go inactive to keep internal light contained.
