Plasteel

Plasteel is a high-grade composite material, used by the Sahaad primarily for the manufacture of heavier battlesuits and light vehicles, Plasteel was first introduced to the Sahaad after the annexation of a former rogue nation. Plasteel itself is elegant in its simplicity being a combination of interwoven semi-crystalline thermoplastic strands with carbon nanofiber materials granting a plastic composite the strength of high-grade steel at a fraction of the weight. Thermal strength however surpasses the 'steel' equivalent material strength being capable of maintaining its cohesion past the shatterpoint of steel, or survive temperatures past most low-grade commercial steel equivalents.

Producer(s): Djahet Fleetforges Cost: Inexpensive Armor Type: Light

Properties

Plasteel objects can and/or are:

- Heat-Resistant: Has a degree of laser and thermal resistances.
- Kinetic Penetrator Resistant
- Light Weight: Made to be light, Plasteel usually does not impede the wearer due to strain of having to move with a heavy armor.
