

LSDF Infantry Lockers

Often located near infantry quarters, or armories, the infantry designated locker rooms are less glamorous comparing to some of the other locker room designs available. Infantry lockers serve the purpose of simply being a place for infantry personnel to store their personal attire, spare uniforms, and personal belongings prior to deployment. LSDF infantry lockers are designed with less bells and whistles, being comprised simply of Durandium Alloy, and using basic combination or key based locks. Infantry locker rooms sometimes are placed adjoining to a showering room.
