

LSDF Shrines & Worship Facilities

Designed for the purpose of providing personnel aboard ships and in installations with a location in which they can conduct religious services and worship, the shrine and worship compartments are designed to accommodate Lorath and Helashio faiths, and can be modified to include shrines proper for the worship practices of other species. Shrine and worship facilities come in a variety of sizes and floor plans, from simply designed three meter by three meter chambers, to elaborate compartments designed to accommodate hundreds of individuals during worship ceremonies.
