

Funky City Thunder

The Funky City Thunder is just another one of the problems which the already struggling Neplesian Police force have to deal with. This one isn't a priority, but it's still there...

This gang roves around the streets, slums and countryside of Funky City on their heavily customised motorcycles and air-bikes causing trouble by making a hell of a racket and attempting to rob unsuspecting people.

If they're not on their bikes, chances are they've got their trusty weapons, usually consisting of Liberator Pistols, Baseball bats, Brass Knuckles and Knives. That said, however, most of them seem to run for it once you disarm them of their weapon. Some even have a habit of fighting on their bikes, which makes things even more terrifying.

On the good side, however, they'll always respect someone who can beat them in a motorcycle race. They always seem to look for inspiring figures and people with a bit more punch to them. They appear to be approachable once you loosen them up with a few drinks. As far a joining the gang goes, just prove yourself worthy in a punch-on with Cheese and they'll have you 'apprenticed'.

They have a strong dislike of the Reds, and a competing gang named the 'The Reds Movement'. Even wearing red in the gang's presence is a very bad mistake.

In nepleslia, the gang had a violent run in with another group of criminals and were moved from 20 members to 15.
