

Roles Within the UOCPF

Career paths within the United Outer Colonies Peacekeeping Forces.

Enlisted Path

Enlisted Peacekeepers are the most common ranks, they are the devoted souls who have selected to serve their nation. They are also the jack-of-all-trades; since mission priorities are diverse they face several different situations requiring skills introduced to them at recruitment training. Specialization is only when the enlisted decides to or is invited to attend the academy to begin officer training. Jobs enlisted are called on to do:

- Power Armor Piloting
- Delivery of Humanitarian aide
- Security
- Engineering
- Starship piloting
- Cooking, Cleaning, etc.
- Defend UOC holdings, ships, and bases
- Assist in government funded civilian projects

The Academy: Transition

When an enlisted has preformed their duties to the best ability, they may be recommended by their commanding officer to attend the academy. Enlisted Peacekeepers can also apply to attend, but it is easier to get in with the recommendation of a superior officer as support of their skills.

Attendance doesn't always mean leaving the ship the Peacekeeper is currently serving on, on many ships in the fleet courses can be taken by communications and in-the-field experience. Courses lead the Peacekeeper in the transition from enlisted to officer, aiding them in becoming specialized and preparing them for the learning experience that is command.

See: Cadet rank.
