Service to the Free State

In peace, in war, and in reality, there is a need for security. What happens when a pacifist picks up a gun? Does a gun really provide security? The 4th Fleet Marines don't care. Those Marines assigned to patrol duty in the Free Spacer system of Null and Void have two tasks. Ensure the system's physical security by identifying, intercepting and eliminating every threat to the Imperium and the Free State and look good doing it. Pirates, smugglers, and Nekos beware! The Marines are in town and looking to prosecute with extreme prejudice with the help of their Navy and IPG friends!

Basing off of the venerable warhorse Irim-class Heavy Gunship, this plot's feel aims to capture the classic SARP action of yesterday, when PA combat was the focus of any space engagement. It serves as a great introduction to some of the most dramatic space combat elements that the Star Army of Yamatai faction has to offer, and a good jumping off point to more seasoned canon plotships. Newbies to SARP are also highly encouraged to apply, since the Open RP format makes it easy to create a fresh Nekovalkyrja infantry character and jump right into fighting the renewed NMX raider threat!

Song of Whitemeadow

It is a spiritual successor to Scythe.

A charter was granted to one of the Mikado's nephews; Lord Anise Whitemeadow was given land holdings on the new planet to found an outpost and begin to colonize the new holding with a mind for turning it into a rich resource for the expanding state. Colonists of all sorts piled upon the ASV Deluge, a converted civilian cruise liner, to stake their claims and make their way upon truly unclaimed land.

But Whitemeadow, who is still quite close to his minority, is a fledgling at best, and like the colony he and his foundling Knights and Retainers must grow to brave the unknown hills and valleys of their new home with wisdom and courage, proving themselves, in the Asterian way, "Noble by prowess, brave and true," as the fate of a world and the success of the colony rests in the attempt.

Baba Yaga

Baba Yaga is a plot centered around the privateers aboard the titular ship, the Baba Yaga. The ship is a variant of a "Divine Comedy" State-Issue Ayane obtained through trading with a Freespacer group.

The Baba Yaga is a privateer ship. With the desire of the crew to make a better life for themselves, the crew seeks profit and renown in the frontiers of the Kikyo Sector. All have their own reasons. Some merely sign on to make a wage, some come seeking fame and fortune, others just want a place to belong. With the retirement of Captain Mikhail "Bruin" Zakharov, Justin McCallum assumed the Captaincy, who has his own motives as well, and they lead him and the crew to the frontiers. No matter their motives, all of them are joined in the pursuit of wealth for one reason or another.

Psychopomp LLC

A relatively fresh face to the galactic market, Psychopomp LLC was started in early YE 38 to accommodate the civilian market for affordable and quality enhancements in the form of cybernetics and genetic manipulation. They offer a wide variety of opportunities for those looking for a fresh start outside of Yamatai and Neplesian space, promising excellent career opportunities for those in need of work!

To those with a more military-oriented background or are just looking to make a difference in the world without having to join Yamatai's Star Army or Neplesian's Star Military, we have a Private Military sub-division just waiting with open arms for you. We have dedicated headquarters based in the heart of Neplesia's New Detroit and only a short 55LY trip towards Yamatai's galactic north; Dawn Station located in the Ake sector.

Skeleton Ensemble

With the Free State remaining fractured and unstable, a small vagrant crew of uncanny adventurers and outcasts gathers within the hull of the silent and swift Skeleton Ensemble. It is their self-appointed task to repair the wounds of the great schism and re-establish contact with the lost colonies of the galactic north...

But what horrors will they find, once they pass the threshold into the true depths of uncharted space? Are the splintered organizations that support them truly a force for good, or are the old values of the Free State already dead and buried?
