

GP-5 MASER Pulse Rifle

Overview

By the time WickedArms Industries folded, this weapon had seen plenty of use. Designed specifically to take out Nekovalkyrja and other omni-organic or heavily armored troops, the GP-5 was considered a fairly durable weapon. Its cost, however, plummeted once Ketsurui Zaibatsu began producing the NSP and its derivatives. Its ergonomics kind of suck, as the butt's too steeply angled and the lack of a trigger guard makes it a bit rough to shoot. The GP-5a is the most common variant, with the 5b being a sniper version with scope and laser sight. The battery fits entirely into the weapon.
