PICTURE HERE?

The Valhalla Station is a newly built station in orbit of an icy world in the Ether System. It was created by the Gartagen Union to be a home away from home, where aliens and Gartegans alike could live in harmony and meet for diplomacy. It was created originally to prevent future wars between the factions of the Kikyo System, with it having an ambassador from most galactic bodies, who will convene in meetings regularly.

It will be character-driven, with it mostly being small individual plots, with episodic role-plays in a SP format, with JP available upon request. Themes of it will be slice of life, drama and diplomacy.
