

OIF Salvation Non-Origin Crew Contract

The OIF Salvation is an Origin Industries ship that accepts not only Origin employees but contracted workers as well. This page details things that all Non-Origin crew members have to agree to.

Responsibility

1. All contracted crewmen should keep in mind that even if they are not part of Origin they are expected to behave in a code of conduct that will not shame the company.
2. Contracted crew should report to their supervisor at the start of their shift.
3. Contracted Crew men are to follow orders of any Origin Industries employee in a position of leadership on the vessel in order from top of the hierarchy down; Captain, first mate, department chiefs, supervisor(if not equal or greater than department chiefs), others in leadership roles.
 1. While not contractually obligated to follow employees not in a leadership role, escalating disputes, and endangering the crew are punishable.
4. Contractors must wear a special uniform that is a modification of the Origin Industries Uniform where the blue is replaced with an amber orange and black is replaced with slate grey.
 1. Uniform is provided by Origin

Legality

1. Regardless of citizenship all contractors fall under Origin Industries' authority when settling legal matters, and Origin Industries reserves the right to try contractors internally if appropriate.
2. Origin Industries has no obligation to defend contractors in court if personal actions have put them in a legal situation with local governments.

Payment and Rank

1. In accordance with the contract, all contractors will be given a salary or no less than 100KS a week.
2. Contractors will receive a temporary rank while working with Origin Industries. These ranks do not have specific pay grades associated to them however and hold less power than their corresponding Orisec/Field ranking.

Contractor	Orisec/Field
Master	Ensign
Adept	Master Sergeant
Artisan	Sergeant
Journeyman	Corporal
Apprentice	Private first class
Neophyte	Private
