Plot Overview

The plot will cover the different PMC teams as they complete missions. The first thread will be a simulation which will determine what team your character is on if you wish to play as a new recruit fresh out of training. I will take a few people to be pre existing members but there are limited slots for this role. for more info go here. Later on the plot may expand to cover the commercial and research side of the company.

Rules and Pacing

Format

- Mix of standard posting and JPs but primarily JP

Pacing

- Posting for standard should be made by the end of the week. Don't go overboard with posts let others post at least once before you post again or wait until I say to go ahead. If you hold up the thread for a day your character will be taken control of by a GM to advance the plot, and if you don't post in more than 3 days you will be booted from that thread. For JPs just don't be an idiot with it mention if you added something earlier on so that others know of its existence and don't change anyone else's post without their permission failure to do so will get you a strike. 5 strikes and you get booted.
