NECTAR (Nekovalkyrja Expeditionary Command & Tactical Analysis Room)

The NECTAR (Nekovalkyrja Expeditionary Command & Tactical Analysis Room) is located in the heart of the fortress below the PANTheon Integrated Electronics System \(PANT-IES\) Core. From here the base commander or Taisho can command an entire fleet. The center of the oval-shaped room is lowered, in the center of which is a control table with volumetric projection capabilities; utilized for planning fleet movements, coordinating battlefield operations or any other mission-specific tasks. Stairs accessing the lower area are arranged at all four major compass points. Two lifts access the Command Deck located on either side of the fleet communications stations at the rear. The Iori’s central tactical, CFS, and engineering monitoring stations are arranged towards the front of the room, with damage control and logistics located respectively starboard and port.

Iori Star Fortress Memorial Park

A greenspace environment kept at Yamatai \(Planet\) standard with simulated daylight and night time environmental changes. The dome-like enclosure has large open grass areas, temperate forested areas and an artificial lake at its center. The park has been stocked with suitable flora and fauna native to Yamatai \(Planet\). Walking paths lead visitors through a circle of memorial models built in honor of different fallen Iori-Class Star Fortress; each model has a readout that tells the fateful story of each of the lost Fortresses and anyone who perished in their destruction.

Shipyards/Production Bays

All Production Facilities on Legacy Bastion have been updated to YE 42, allowing them to construct, repair and assemble all classes of Star Army of Yamatai vessels. Vessels too large for the production bays are produced using an exterior construction scaffolding system. Shipyards are managed by the Yugumo Corporation which has an affiliate agreement with Ketsurui Fleet Yards.
