

Nodal Interface War Room Simulation Chamber

Another Fifth Expeditionary Fleet design taken from Hotaru Star Fortress—Utilizing the AI's incredible power put into visualization. Through volumetric projection and utilization of the nodal system, real-time environments within the fleet can be projected into this room. Visualize battlefields from unique vantage points, like standing on the dorsal surface of a ship surrounded by enemy vessels. Overlays can be produced with tactical or other sensor data to further enhance the experience. Through interaction with the fleet network, a commanding officer can control entire fleets of ships or armors from this room.
