General Service Pistol, Type 28

Yamatai's General Service Pistol, or "GSP" for short, is a solid-ammunition weapon that relies on chemically propelled projectiles packed into cartridges. The weapon uses 10 mm, or .40-caliber, ammunition. It was produced by Ketsurui Zaibatsu for the Star Army of Yamatai starting YE 28.

The pistol felt good in Yukari's hands. The wooden grip felt just the right size in her hands. She'd never become used to the NSP, no matter the grip. Something about the weight of the GSP worked. And the spur hammer was a nice touch, fitting well with the somewhat-blocky slide that was just shallow enough. 15 rounds gave it the perfect balance, though less did not ruin the balance much.
