  - A ship boarded by the Myrm goes off course heading for the planet with a breached reactor that if going critical when the ship breaks up in orbit may cripple the capital settlement on the planet with an EMP resulting in the deaths of millions due to the cold if the cities shields are not raised in time.
  - The shields, unable to be raised due to the absence of the governor fall under the responsibility of local NSN and NSMC personnel to activate. Teaming up with the same mercenaries suspected of shooting down their shuttle and attempting to kill them weeks prior local marines fight a protracted battle against the very same Kuznyetski mercenaries they had been shot down with alongside their sworn enemy.
  - Being cornered and unable to raise the shields the marines and their mercenary allies fail. The shields, however, are raised, uncovering the corruption of the city's administrative AI by the Appointed Governor and the local NPF planetary commissioner to take over control the city from the kuznyetski.
  - The governor's mercenaries take all the credit for saving the city while the marines are detained and only released under pressure of an NSN ship captain who takes the marines off-world.
