Physical Description

Violet is a five foot and seven inch tall pale-skinned Elysian woman. She has a slender build, with a slight hourglass figure. Her hair is naturally a dark brown color, though she often dyes it to be a dark purple color. Her hair, when untied, reaches a little bit below her shoulders. Usually, she ties her hair into a singular ponytail, which she rests on her shoulder. Both of her eyes are a deep, dark purple, resting on her rather roundish face.

Personality

Violet is known to be a secluded and quiet Elysian. Only speaking when she has to, she typically tries to steer away from conversations and making new friends. On the outside, Violet can be seen as a bit rude and rough due to her antisocial personality. Yet she can be caring, on rare occasions.

History

Violet was born on Elysia Novus in YE 18. She was the child of Matthew Amiriah and his wife, Yimir Amiriah. The Amiriahs had always been skeptical of soul transfer technology, leading them to not getting back ups. Four years into Violetta's life though, her father died due to an accident. Her mother, overwhelmed by her husband's death, verbally and physically abused little Violetta for the rest of the time she remained in her household. At 16 years of age, after an exceptionally violent dispute with her mother, Violet ran away, seeking refuge with her late father's sister, Clover Amiriah, on Kyoto. After living with her aunt for a several years, where she dedicated herself to studying chemistry, and finally transferred herself into a Caesolisian body. Years later, she decided to join the Star Army of Yamatai as a military scientist, hoping to be able to prove to her mother that she wasn't useless.

Skills Learned

- Star Army Common Skills
- Chemistry (terraforming, creating new substances, etc.)

Violet has always been interested in the fields of science, When she was young, she would pass her free time reading and studying books, most related to chemistry. She used her love with chemistry to escape her life, finding how much control she could have over chemical reactions and technology. Control which, unfortunately, she didn't have over her life.

- Mathematics (Includes accounting, statistics, dimensional theory, quantum physics, etc.)
- Domestic (Includes things like laundry, basic cooking, cleaning, infant care)

Due to her mother forcing her to do house work most of her childhood, Violet is quite skilled at cooking, and other domestic things
