Playing

How would you recommend this occupation is played in the roleplay? What are some things the player can do to make the most of their character with this occupation and to seem believable and helpful to other players? What are their expected duties? Where are people in this occupation usually found?

Skills

A subsection of how to play the occupation. What are the things that characters in this occupation are able to do?

Player Expectations

Does this occupation have any OOC side to it? For example, some Star Army jobs have OOC sides to them, like the journalist is expected to actually write news stories, the clerk is supposed to actually manage personnel for their plot, the supply character's owner is supposed to manage ship inventory on the wiki and RP post supply requests to Star Army Logistics. If there are expectations put on the player, list them here so they are on the same page and not signing up for something they're not able or willing to do.

List of Characters

(If available, we can use struct to automatically list characters in that occupation)
