Nepleslia

Nepleslia has a variety of military starships with many different designs. Most ships have the traditional green with yellow stripe paintjob. Atmospheric craft tend to have a green color on top with a blue or black on the underside. Cargo ships typically replace their green coloring with a white or grey. Some ships also use an alternate black with yellow stripe paintjob. Weapon systems tend to simply be painted the same as the hull with some critical bits chromed like barrels, coolant systems, or lenses. Their engine systems also tend to produce a purple/blueish inner flame surrounded by orange exhaust gases. Nepleslian ships are designed to be very robust and functional with shape determined by function.
